INFUSIONS

An infusion is a natural chemical process created with volatile botanicals that dissolve readily and then release their active ingredients & flavours easily in alcohol.

The botanicals are typically dried herbs, flowers, berries or fruits. The ingredients might go through various stages, including boiling, cooling, caramelising and seeping before the optimum amount of flavour is obtained for the new infusion.

Some sugar may be added to compliment the new flavour and you are left with what we think is an interesting and unique tippie. We make all of our infusions on the premises and use them in many of our cocktails and drinks.

Ask one of our bartenders to help you choose.
